“ Dear Erik,
I received the sad news today. You were not just a colleague on the other side of the Atlantic, you were also a brother in arms and a friend. I will miss our conversations about everything, from work to story's from the navy that we shared with each other and much more. I'll miss you and I will Will not forget you.

Dear family,
My thoughts go to you in this difficult moment. Mommy; Erik often spoke warmly about you who was close to him. You must be proud of him and yourself. he was a good person.

“ I worked with Erik and he was always happy, upbeat, extremely helpful and very friendly. I was always amazed by his great attitude and outlook. I am grateful for having known him and I will miss him. To his family and his fiancé, I offer my heartfelt condolences at this time, but also a knowledge that he touched other peoples' lives.

“ *To Erik's family.....
Erik and I worked together for the past 20 years. He was a good worker and respected by all. If you needed anything Erik was always willing to lend a helping hand.
I am so sorry to learn of his passing. He truly will be missed.
Deepest sympathy,
Lynn Brown*
