“ Mike was a nice man. I still remember him driving our Honda Pilot and beeping the horn for the wedding we were all in. The horn started sounding sad but came back the next day. We thought it broken. We laughed about it. RIP Mike. Prayers to Lori and the family. 🙏

“ Uncle Mike was the reason I ever got into video games. We'd spend so much time playing the legend of Zelda on the N64 , driving my aunt crazy by playing the PlayStation early mornings in the living room sometimes accidentally playing too loud as we did 'tricky combos' in the snowboarding game SSX tricky.

He tried to teach me how to play the guitar (that didn't last long , I got too frustrated) but in that time himself was an awesome guitar player.

With the holidays approaching it's going to be quite hard to not walk into the house and not hear "Hey kid!" Or "oh boy!" When you hand him a Christmas gift.

We all love and miss you already Uncle Mike. Thank you for helping shape who I am today.
